DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. The amendments and arguments presented by the applicant have been duly noted. However, Examiner overlooked the limitations in the claims 4,18 and 30, further review of the prior art of record has prompted the presentation of new rejections presented below. In view of such, the previous rejections in the first office action have been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-3,5-17,19-29 and 31-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Bash et al. (U.S. Patent Number 6,786,056).

In regard to claims 1 and 13, Bash et al. disclose a cooling system with evaporators distributed in parallel for future data center involved many small (1,000 to 2,000 sq. ft.) and readily deployable data centers that are akin to portable building or shipping containers (col.2, lines 35-38). The room 10 may comprise more than one room and the cooling system 20 may be configured to cool a plurality rooms. Bash et al. also disclose the cooling of the data center.

Art Unit: 3744

In regard to claims 2,3,5-12,14-17,19-29 and 31-41, official notice is taken these limitations are either obvious or used in the prior art which including Applicant provided prior art.
